

National Literacy Action Week

January 28 – February 2, 2008

Civil Rights Workshop

Monday, Jan 28th, 6:30pm

South Estes Family Resource Center: 391 South Estes Drive

Civil Rights and Youth Activism

Do you want to be inspired and feel empowered? Well come and check out this interactive workshop for middle-school students! A historical overview of the civil rights movement will be provided, along with engaging activities for participating in and organizing youth activism!

Learn about local and campus-based literacy and social activist organizations!

Monday, Jan 28th AND Thursday, Jan 31st, 2:30-5:00pm

UNC-Chapel Hill, THE PIT

Stop by SCALE's tabling to meet other students interested in literacy and other social justice issues and talk with professionals working in these fields. A sampling of the organizations present: SCALE (Student Coalition for Action in Literacy Education), America Reads, M.A.N.O. (Mujeres Avanzando hacia Nuevas Oportunidades/ Women Working towards New Opportunities), and CLap (Carolina Language Partnership).

Developing Social Justice In Your Community

Tuesday, Jan 29th, 7:00pm

UNC Campus Y Building, Anne Queen Room

The Conversation Must Begin with YOU.

Join UNC graduate students in a workshop designed to provoke dialogue about the social justice issues affecting our community and ways that you can make a difference!

Refreshments will be provided.

Bilingual Story Time

Wednesday, Jan 30th, 7:00pm

Carrboro Elementary School Library: 400 Shelton St, Carrboro

Looking for something to do with the kids during this chilly weather?

Join Aurora Boyer, renowned storyteller, for a reading of Joseph Had a Little Overcoat and The Paper Bag Princess in both English and Spanish. These stories are sure to bring a smile to the faces of children and adults.

Health Literacy Workshop

Thursday, Jan 31st, 6:30pm

Borders Book Store: 1807 Fordham Blvd., Chapel Hill

In our constantly evolving society, it is important for health care providers to be well-versed in cross-cultural health literacy. Join a leading health care professional in a dialogue addressing language barriers and health education. This discussion is open to anyone interested, but health care students and professionals are especially encouraged to attend. Come share your experiences and your questions!